

Terms and Conditions of Research Consultation with South Carolina Confederate Relic Room and Military Museum's Collections

To assist those seeking information from the South Carolina Confederate Relic Room and Military Museum, the curatorial staff will provide access to artifacts in collections for legitimate research purposes by historians, researchers, and the general public so long as access does not threaten or endanger the collection object(s). The Registrar will control and provide access to the collection, evaluating each request individually. Access will be based on the museum's primary responsibility for the preservation of the collection, legitimacy of the request, and the practicality of scheduling access. Please make all appointments directly with the curatorial staff, 803-737-8020 (objects), 803-737-8092 (archives).

Reproduction Rights: Permission must be obtained to reproduce and/or publish images of any object, document, or image from the collections and/or archives of the South Carolina Confederate Relic Room and Military Museum. Signing this form does not constitute permission to publish or reproduce images from the collection or collection artifacts. Permission to publish or reproduce must be applied for separately and constitutes one time use only.

The South Carolina Confederate Relic Room reserves the right to limit access to any photography of its collections. Fees may be waived for those doing original scholarly research, but anyone given permission to photograph collection items may be asked to provide the museum a copy of the photograph free of charge. The use of personal scanners or cameras is not allowed in archives. Some archival collections may be closed to digital copying.

Anyone reproducing and or publishing photographs of collections items for commercial purposes must have special permission and will be charged. This includes, but may not be limited to, posters, prints, postcards, note cards, advertising, promotional contexts, or artifacts used as integral parts of commercial products. This includes reproducing artifacts from the museum's collections for profit.

Required Credit Line: The South Carolina Confederate Relic Room and Military Museum, Columbia, SC.

Notice Regarding Copyright Restrictions: The copyright law of the United States (Title 17, United States Code) governs the making of photocopies or other reproductions of copyrighted materials. Archives are authorized, under certain conditions specified by law, to furnish a photocopy or other reproduction. One of the specific conditions is that the photocopy or reproduction is not to be "used for any purpose other than private study, scholarship, or research." If a user makes a request for, or later uses, a photocopy or reproduction in excess of "fair use," that user may be liable for copyright infringement. The applicant assumes all responsibility for questions of copyright that may arise in copying and in the use made of reproductions. No copyrighted material will be reproduced beyond recognized "fair use" without the signed authorization of the copyright owner. This institution reserves the right to refuse to accept a reproduction order if, in its judgment, fulfillment of the order would involve violation of copyright law.

By signing this form you agree not to use the image for any additional purposes other than those specified to museum on signed forms, unless additional written permission is obtained from museum. Also, you agree not to duplicate, transfer or manipulate image and not remove any watermark or embedded credit line.
